8 p.m. Program

Place:

Boston Architectural Center

The Chief Counsel of the Blue Ribbon Commission, Bancroft Littlefield, Jr. of Harvard Law School, will join Peter Forbes AIA, Architect member of the Commission, in a special presentation to members of the Chapter.

They will discuss the activities of the Commission to date and wish to hear from Architects what the profession wishes the Commission to accomplish.

In April 1978 the Commonwealth of Massachusetts House of Representatives passed "a Resolve providing for an investigation and study by a Special Commission relative to corruption involved in certain State and County building contracts."

The mandate of the Commission is twofold: (1) to investigate allegations of corrupt practices and maladministration in the awarding and implementation of state and county contracts for design and construction of buildings; (2) to propose recommendations for legislation to improve the public building process.

The Commission was legally constituted in July with the appointment of its seven members:

Francis X. Bellotti, Attorney General of the Commonwealth; Frances Burke, Chairperson of the Department of Public Administration, Suffolk University; Peter Forbes, AIA, President of Forbes Hailey Jeas Erneman, Inc., Architects, Boston; Daniel O. Mahoney, Partner in the Boston law firm of Palmer & Dodge and Executive Committee member of the Massachusetts Bar Association; Walter McCarthy, P.E., professor of engineering at Southern Massachusetts University; John William Ward, Chairman, President of Amherst College; and Lewis H. Weinstein, Partner in the Boston law firm of Foley, Hoag & Eliot. The Commission appointed Bancroft Littlefield, Jr. as Chief Counsel.

Initially, all the design and building contracts awarded through the Bureau of Building Construction and the Designer Selection Board from January 1, 1968 to the present were computer programmed to provide an accessible record of projects, designers, builders, projected costs, actual costs, fees, change orders, litigation, etc. With this data in hand the investigation has been focused to examine specific state and county administrative and "user" agencies, particular projects which are typically representative of the procurement process or which appear to have had unusual problems, and individual design firms and building companies which have had extensive experience in the state and county system.

More immediately, the Commission actively solicits the involvement of the architectural community as a source of information, to be held in strictest confidence, concerning allegations of

Boston Exports

Annual Design Award

Prologue

In 1977 the BSA announced the creation of a new annual design award category titled, "Boston Exports." This award was conceived to complement the Harleston Parker award and to act as a showcase for BSA members' buildings constructed in other cities, states, and countries.

Eligibility

The awards program is open to all current members of the BSA. The same rules apply to this jury as apply to the Harleston Parker jury, i.e. a jury member has to agree that none of his work or that of his firm is eligible for an award. Structures or buildings of any type must have been completed within the last ten years (after January 1969) and situated anywhere on the globe outside the Boston metropolitan area which for this purpose is designated as follows:

The City of Boston and the Metropolitan Parks District. Section 3 of Chapter 407 for the year 1893 includes in this district the cities or towns of Cambridge, Chelsea, Everett, Lynn, Malden, Medford, Newton, Quincy, Somerville, Waltham, Woburn, Arlington, Belmont, Braintree, Brookline, Canton, Dedham, Dover, Hingham, Hull, Melrose, Milton, Nahant, Needham, Revere, Saugus, Stoneham, Swampscott, Wakefield, Watertown, Wellesley, Weston, Weymouth, Winchester, and Winthrop.

Submission Deadline

All submissions must be received at the BSA Chapter office at 320 Newbury Street before 5:00 P.M. on February 23, 1979.

6. A minimum of two and a maximum of six exterior photos of different facades (B & W or color).
7. A minimum of one and a maximum of four interior photos (B & W or color).

All material must follow the AIA rules for anonymity. A sealed blank opaque envelope containing the firm name should be enclosed on the last page.

Jury

The jury will make the selections based upon the materials presented. No field trips will be undertaken. Members of the jury are:

Earl R. Flansburgh FAIA, Ch.
Richard Bertman AIA
Sherrie Culter AIA
W. Easley Hamner AIA
Wilson F. Pollock, Jr. AIA

Awards

The awards will be publicly announced at the annual BSA Awards Dinner. Winners will be confidentially notified prior to the dinner to encourage their presence. Awards will be in the form of a printed certificate bearing the Chapter's Seal.

Obligations of Winners

The selected winners may be asked to provide to the BSA for a period of one year:

1. A set of slides of the submission entries, suitable for incorporating into a travelling slide show.
2. One or two (to be determined) foam core boards with mounted material similar to the submission requirements for use in travelling display sponsored by the Society.

Submission Requirements

All material must be submitted in a black spiral binder and confirm to an 8½ x 11 format.

1. A typewritten description not to exceed one page, of the project, its location, client, program and approximate value.
2. A typewritten description not to exceed one page of the design solution and major materials used.
3. Site plan.
4. Ground floor plan and typical upper floor plan if applicable.
5. Typical section or sections.

Submission Fee

A check or money order for $20 to cover handling must be included with each submission. Check is to be made out to the Boston Society of Architects. It should be placed in an envelope and taped to the inside cover of the submission.
